The War Today

By GUY RHOADES
NEW HEADACHE

Russia today instituted a new headache for Germany by walking into Bessarabia and Bukovina after the Rumanian government had decided not to fight in defence of those former Russian territories.

Every indication in Bucharest, the Rumanian capital, points to the likelihood that Germany was taken completely by surprise in the Russian coup of Bessarabia and Bukovina. She was too busy elsewhere to do anything about it anyway.

Dispatches to the Associated Press said the German legation there was describing the Russian move as a "British trick" to create a new front. They added Germany was not accepting such a fight. The Germans declared bitterly that Russia had been "aided and abetted" by Britain in taking advantage of Germany's preoccupation in the west to stage the Rumanian grab.

ADJUSTMENT

German legation officials, according to the Associated Press,
were frank in saying the territorial changes were only a "temporary adjustment" and that Germany "definitely will settle things later."

Previously Berlin dispatches had claimed Germany was "disinterested" in the Rumanian crisis. Germany was said to have advised King Carol to comply with Moscow's demands, but it now seems the Nazis also promised that things would be "settled later."

FLIE

Dispatches said that wealthy German owners of Rumanian land and German experts employed in the territory now being occupied by the Red army fled to Bucharest like ordinary refugees, apparently having received no advance warning from their Nazi masters.

Any suggestion that Germany might be content with the Russian move appeared unreasonable in view of the fact the Reich has been pressing Rumania to speed and enlarge oil supplies and send its soldiers back to the fields to grow crops
to trade to Germany.

UNEXPECTED

In another regard the Russian action looked like grief for Germany. Field Marshal Goetting is reported to have foreseen a long dream of driving the Danube River as an unrestricted waterway, from the Baltic to the Black Sea.

Germany's unpreparedness in the Rumanian situation was indicated by the disclosure that King Carol, who had been busy appeasing German sentiment by reorganizing his government on pro-Nazi lines and inviting the return of members of the Iron Guard—eventually exiled, had cried in vain for German help against the Russians.

BLOW-UP

In the midst of the Russian grab, effected as Germany re-proclaimed its preoccupation with the considerable task of reducing the British Commonwealth, Rumania rushed its army to the Hungarian border, apparently in the belief that its none-too-friendly neighbors were about to attempt a land grab of their own.

The possibility of a Rumanian-Hungarian war made today one of the most unhappy dates for Germany since Britain and France declared war against her last September 3. A Balkan blow-up would come pretty close to sewing up the Reich's last outside source of the food and other essential produce which even months ago were none too plentiful.

SARAJEVO DAY

It was coincidence that the seizure of the two Rumanian provinces occurred on the 26th anniversary of the day when young Vavrio Princip shot and killed at sleepy little Sarajevo the Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his wife, the Countess of Hohenberg.
It was Princip's act which touched off the fuse leading to the first Great War.

FRENCH NAVY

From Jerusalem came reports that General Eugene Mittel-hauser had announced Syria's compliance with France's act of capitulation to Germany and Italy, but there appeared reasonable grounds for believing the French navy and other parts of the Empire contemplated no similar action.

H.M.C.S. Fraser Sunk Off Bordeaux; 45 Dead, 115 Saved

Lost in Action

OTTAWA (CP)—In the performance of hazardous duties
the Canadian destroyer Fraser was lost in a collision off the mouth of the Gironde River, near Bordeaux, France, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced in the House of Commons today.

Of the crew 115 were rescued and 45 are dead or missing. Of the rescued 17 were injured, one dangerously injured and one is seriously ill.

The Prime Minister gave no details of the collision or the nature of the operations in which the Fraser was engaged but said the loss occurred "in the face of the enemy."

The Fraser had a displacement of 1,355 tons and was built in 1931 and bought by the Canadian government in 1937.

FIRST CASUALTY LIST

The loss—provided the first Canadian Naval casualty list from the war zone in the present war.

The announcement recalled a previous report that a Canadian destroyer had participated in the evacuation of Canadian diplomatic officials, including Lieut.
Col. George P. Vanier, Canadian minister to France, from Bordeaux.

"H.M.C.S. Fraser," said Mr.
King, "has been on active service since the commencement of the war when, at a few hours' notice, she speeded in company with another vessel of H.M.C. navy, from Vancouver to the Nova Scotian coast, via the Panama Canal."

"Since she had seen arduous service both there and in the Caribbean. It was from the latter station H.M.C.S. Fraser was en route when ordered to join those units of the R.C.N.
which were proceeding overseas."

There are four destroyers of the Fraser type in the Royal Canadian Navy. Formerly H.M.S.
Crescent, she was launched Sept. 29, 1931, and was acquired by Canada in 1937. Her displacement was 1,355 tons and she was built at Vickers-Armstrong Works, England.

Commander Wallace B. Creery, R.C.N., was the commanding officer.

"At the present time, for reasons of naval secrecy, nothing more can be divulged of the operations of His Majesty's Canadian units operating in overseas waters," the Prime Minister said.

SYMPATHY GIVEN
The Prime Minister expressed the deep sympathy of the government and people of Canada to relatives of men lost on the Fraser.

Conservative leader Hanson,
M.J. Coldwell, C.C.F., Rose-town-Biggan, Sask., and J. H.
Blackmore, New Democracy,
Lethbridge, endorsed that sentiment.

Mr. King also read a message received by Rear-Admiral Percy Nelles, chief of the naval staff, from the British Admiralty. It
said:

"Please convey to officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy their lordships' sympathies in the loss the H.M.C.S. Fraser.

"Their lordships wish to take this opportunity to express their thanks to all ranks and ratings of the Royal Canadian Navy for the splendid contribution they are making to the work of His Majesty's fleet in the common cause."

On patrol in the north Atlantic the men of the Fraser had sometimes been out as long as 45 days and come back with legs and arms frozen in howling gales at 40 degrees below zero.

BUCHAREST (AP)—Soviet troops occupying ceded parts of Rumania moved tonight beyond those areas into old Rumania itself.

After taking over Cernauti, a city yielded by King Carol in his surrender to the Russian ultimatum,
they swept into Dorohoi,
a town in the province of Moldavia.

As soon as this news seeped out, the Rumanian government filed an urgent appeal with the German minister that Berlin put hard pressure on Moscow to halt
the Red advance.

A Budapest dispatch said Hungarian officials there tonight denied a Rumanian press assertion that Russia had sent Hungarian armies to the Rumanian frontier,
formerly eastern Czechoslovakia,
in which there are Ukrainian elements. The officials said it was "typical Rumanian gangsterism," and asserted they had received no communication whatsoever from Moscow.

Turkey Sends Fleet To Black Sea

By the Canadian Press
Turkey's dispatch of her fleet to the Black Sea today reflected that nation's forebodings over Russia's dip into Rumania and added another "ready for action"
naval squadron to fleets dotting
the Mediterranean and other southeastern waters.

The Turks sent their warships through the Bosphorus in the first step in defence of their vital Dardanelles Straits from any attack from the east.

In doing so, Turkey apparently placed reliance on Britain's willingness to protect her against any attack by Italy, for the Black Sea move put the Turkish fleet
on the other side of the Dardanelles from Italy's Dodecanese Islands, where Mussolini is said to have gathered a naval force.

Russia was said in some quarters to have demanded Rumanian naval bases on the Black Sea and the Danube River as well as slices of territory, and Turkey presumably sees a greater menace to the Dardanelles from the east than from the west.

ALLIED FLEET
Britain has a fleet stationed at Alexandria, southward across the Mediterranean from the Dode-canese Islands. At least part of the French fleet, supposed to be turned over to Germany and Italy for internment under armistice terms, still is at Alexandria.

In the west, Britain has her Gibraltar fortifications.

Another part of the French fleet is reported at Casablanca, French Morocco, on the Atlantic coast.

STRENGTHS
Turkey's fleet, according to Jane's Fighting Ships, is much smaller than Russia's. However, Turkey undoubtedly has almost her entire fleet in the Black Sea and there is no indication how strong the Russian navy is in those waters.

The flagship of the Turkish fleet is the battleship Yavuz,

Russians in Rumania Cities Quickly Taken From Carol's Control

BUCHAREST (AP)—Following a dramatic appeal for help from King Carol to Adolf Hitler, strong contingents of Soviet Russia's big Red army marched unopposed into four Rumanian cities in today's early hours.

The German minister to Rumania, Johann Fabricius, left suddenly for Vienna this morning aboard a special airplane. This trip was reported being made in connection with Carol's appeal to Hitler for help in the crisis with Russia.

It was not clear, however, whether the appeal of the harassed Rumanian king to Hitler was a request for direct aid against Russian encroachments or an entreaty that the Fuehrer use his influence to temper the Russian demands.

(Both Bulgaria and Hungary, claimants to territory now Rumanian, started calling reservists to the colors. A high source in Budapest said a large scale Hungarian call-up was in connection with the Rumanian situation. Bulgarian regulars were shifted from the Turkish to the Rumanian frontier.)

Would Negotiate With Bulgaria

Reports circulated in diplomatic quarters that Carol told his cabinet he was willing to open negotiations "at a suitable moment" with Hungary and Bulgaria regarding their territorial claims on Rumania.

At the same time the King is determined to resist with force any attempts by those countries to repeat the Russian procedure. The Soviet legation issued a statement this morning declaring that "Josef Stalin is immensely pleased with Rumania for her loyal co-operation."

Ion Inuletz, named by Carol for the post of minister for Bessarabia in a cabinet reconstruction during the night, announced he had refused a cabinet place. This, he said, was a protest "against selling of territory from the fatherland."

Inuletz was one of those responsible for the attachment of Bessarabia to Rumania by a vote of representatives after the first Great War.

Carol's reconstructed cabinet—six new ministers were appointed at 3 a.m. to replace those who had failed to agree fully with acceptance of the Russian demands—was called to meet at 4 p.m.

Officials said the cabinet would fix the details of changing ownership of territories being transferred to Russia.

Two Iron Guard (Rumanian Nazi) leaders, Horia Sima and Ion Simonescu, were appointed to the cabinet. Sima, chief of the Iron Guard, was made under-secretary of education and Simonescu secretary for health.

Demonstrations Before Palace

Demonstrations took place in front of the royal palace. Crowds sang Bessarabian songs until they were broken up by police. The authorities then roped off the royal square around the palace to prevent a repetition of the demonstration. Public buildings were guarded heavily. Troops occupied telephone exchanges, the post office and all ministers.

King Carol issued a decree summoning the Rumanian parliament into session tomorrow. A government order closed all cabinets and theatres and forbade music in public place for three days.

All civilian railway traffic was suspended throughout the country to leave the rails clear for military movements.

The occupation was bloodless, Rumanian troops having previously withdrawn.

The cities occupied—Cernauti, Tighina, Chisinau and Cetatea-Alba—all are in Bessarabia and northern Bukovina, territories won by Rumania in the last war settlement and demanded by Russia in an ultimatum yesterday.

"HALF WAY"

Although Hitler had not replied to the Rumanian appeal for help by shortly before noon (2 a.m., P.S.T.) officials quarters were informed that Hitler had sent a telegram to Stalin asking him to meet Rumania "half way."

What effect this was having was not immediately clear.

Red Troops Move With Bands Playing

The Red army forces seemed sweeping onward to quick possession of the whole territory as the Rumanian army fell back in orderly fashion. In taking Cernauti, Tighina, Chisinau and Cetatea-Alba, the Russian troops made it a triumphal procession with flags flying and bands playing.

During the night there were some troop clashes at frontier points, apparently outlying posts which had failed to receive advice from the Bucharest government to retire. Three Rumanian airplanes were shot down by Russian fighters near Cernauti.

Rumanian local officials, under orders from Bucharest, quietly removed official documents and state property in army trucks. The red, yellow and blue Rumanian flag was hauled down from government buildings.

Refugees were allowed to take only personal property with them. The roads were choked with those who left their homes in fear of the possibility of armed conflict.

Soviet warships were reported sighted shortly before noon in the Black Sea near the mouth of the Danube, but this could not be confirmed immediately.

A Turkish fleet headed by the cruiser Yavuz was reported patrolling the Turkish Black Sea territorial waters as a precautionary measure. Turkey continued feverish defence preparations which officials said were designed for "any eventuality."

Rumania feared Hungary and Bulgaria would press demands for return of territories they lost to Rumania in the first Great War, and she rushed hundreds of thousands of troops to her borders to prevent a possible break-up on her country like that of Czechoslovakia, which followed the "peace of Munich."

Rumanians Told to Leave

Russia delivered a demand to Rumania today that all Rumanians now living in Bessarabia and northern Bukovina must leave these territories within four days. Through an official cloak of secrecy thrown around the negotiations there emerged these facts:

The Rumanian army was withdrawing from Bessarabia and northern Bukovina through the night, leaving the field free for the Soviet.

Occupation of the four frontier cities was demanded by Stalin in a notification delivered to the Rumanian government late last night after expiration of a Russian ultimatum earlier in the day.

King Carol received the new Russian minister, Arkady Lavrentieff, at 11 p.m. today in a casual ceremony, in which the latter presented his credentials and delivered a speech prepared several days ago, as if nothing had occurred in Russian-Rumanian relations.

Mobilization Moves Not Stated

The status of Rumanian mobilization and the concentration of troops in Transylvania which started yesterday in an apparent move to hold the province against expected Hungarian demands were obscure this morning.

Whether they were continuing or not was not clear. The Bulgarian legation, which had been informed mobilization also was in effect in Dobruja, and Bulgaria claims, advised that military moves of all kinds suddenly had been halted during the night.

Russians Report All Demands Met

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet radio today announced Rumania had agreed to Russian demands for the transfer of Bessarabia and northern Bukovina to the Soviet Union.

The announcement said the cities of Cernauti, Chisinau and Akkerman (Cetatea-Alba) would be occupied today.

Moscow gave Rumania until noon today to reply in full as to whether the Russian demands were acceptable and the Rumanian minister to Moscow delivered the consent at 11 a.m.

(The original deadline for Rumania's reply, before which time she had signified her assent, was 10 p.m. Thursday, Rumanian time, or noon P.S.T.)

An important Soviet demand is that Rumanians are held responsible for the condition of railways, airdromes and industrial establishments in the ceded territory. Rumanians said they agreed to the Soviet demands to avoid turning their part of Europe into a battlefield. Russia insisted the territory be transferred within four days. On Rumania's request for a longer period, however, she agreed that if an extension becomes necessary a committee of two Rumanians and two Russians would take up the problem. The transfer of the territory actually began today.

A Russian communique distributed by Tass, Soviet news agency, said Rumania took advantage of Russia's military weakness in 1918 and "forcibly wrested" Bessarabia from the Soviet Union.

The communique said Russia never reconciled herself to that act and that "now, when the military weakness of the U.S.S.R. has become a thing of the past, the Soviet Union considers it necessary to take up jointly with Rumania the immediate settlement of the question of the restoration of Bessarabia to the Soviet Union."

The communique added that Russia considered restoration of Bessarabia "originally bound" with the transfer to Russia "of that part of Bukovina of which the population in its overwhelming majority is bound to the Soviet Ukraine."

The communique said the transfer of northern Bukovina to Russia could constitute "a means of compensation for the tremendous damage inflicted on the Soviet Union and the population of Bessarabia by 22 years of Rumanian domination in Bessarabia."

CALL FOR AMBULANCES

BUDAPEST (AP)—War Minister Karol Bartha appealed today to the public to "give quickly" hospital trains, ambulances and medical supplies to the Hungarian Red Cross.

With Hungary's claims for the return of Transylvania from Rumania on everyone's lips, the general remarked to his radio audience: "I trust you will understand what this appeal is all about."

Italy Not Opposing Russia's New Move

ROME (AP)—An Italian authority said today that Italy, working closely with Germany in diplomatic activity in the Balkans, will not oppose Russian action in Rumania.

Italy, it was said, is carrying on only "normal diplomatic activity in view of the delicacy and importance of the question." Asked if Hungary had presented any demands on Rumania, an Italian spokesman said nothing had come to his knowledge officially. Consequently he was not able to answer whether Italy would support any such request. Italy constantly has backed Hungarian claims.

Turkish Fleet In Black Sea

ISTANBUL (AP)—The Turkish fleet, fully fueled, loaded with munitions and stirred for action, moved into the Black Sea today. Turkey was said to feel deep concern over Russia's demands on Rumania, which were reported to include naval bases on the Black Sea and Danube River as well as the province of Bessarabia and northern Bukovina.

The fleet was headed by the battleship Yavuz. It represents approximately two-thirds of total Turkish naval strength. The warships turned northward and were expected to cruise past the southern Bulgarian coast as a warning that Turkey is ready to defend herself.

After leaving its Ismid base, the fleet remained 24 hours in the Bosphorus near the Black Sea outlet taking on supplies.

At the same time Turkey spurred the mobilization of her army past the 500,000 mark. Informal circles said the government had completed a plan to double the number of men under arms within 24 hours should it be necessary.

RECOGNITION FOR DE GAULLE

LONDON (CP)—The British government has recognized Gen. Charles de Gaulle as "the leader of all-free Frenchmen, wherever they may be, who rally to him in support of the Allied cause," an official announcement said today.

De Gaulle, who called for continued resistance to Germany, heads a national committee of French in London.

(Havas, the official French news agency, was quoted today by Reuters news agency as having stated in a delayed dispatch from Bordeaux that the French government had decided to institute "proceedings" for "plotting against the security of the state in connection with intrigues of a number of French personalities who have gone abroad.")

Adopt 15,000 Children

CANBERRA, Australia (CP)—Interior Minister H. S. Foll announced today the government had received offers to adopt 15, 000 British children permanently or temporarily and gave assurance 5,000 would be placed in private homes.

LONDON (CP)—A necklace of 42 diamonds presented anonymously to the government by a woman to help the British war effort was sold today at Christie's, London auctioneers, for £24,400 (nearly $108,500.)

Modjeska's Son Dies at 79

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ralph Modjeski, 79, famous as a bridge engineer, died yesterday. He was born in Krakow, Poland; the son of Madame Helena Modjeska, famed tragedienne (whose husband's name Modrejewski was shortened to Modjeski).

The boy's earliest days were spent with theatrical companies. He came to the United States in 1876 with his mother and her second husband Count Bozenta Chalapowski. In 1878 he was sent to Ecole des Ponts et Chaussées at Paris. He graduated from that institution with top honors in 1885.

Back in the United States, he went to work for the Union Pacific Railroad as an assistant engineer and served various industrial organizations until 1892 when he opened his own office in Chicago.

In 1883 he became a naturalized citizen of the United States under the name of Modjeski, the masculine form of his mother's stage name.

Among the bridges he designed or on which he served as consultant was the famed Quebec Bridge over the St. Lawrence River.

Modjeski was married twice. He was wed in 1885 to Felice Bonda of Krakow, Poland. They had three children: Felix, Bozenta, Maryka Stewart and Charles Emmanuel.

In 1914 he sued for divorce at Portland, Ore., but lost the case. In 1916 he sued for separate maintenance in Chicago, lost, appealed and won. On July 6, 1931, he obtained a divorce at Reno, Nev., and the next day married Mrs. Mary T. Giblin, divorcee of New York and California.

AUSTRALIA CUTS USE OF GASOLINE

MELBOURNE (CP)—Rationing of gasoline will begin in Australia in August with the object of reducing consumption from the present annual rate of 350,000,000 gallons to 250,000,000 gallons.

Reduction in motor car sales since the original announcement of gasoline rationing has brought idleness to hundreds employed in large motorcar assembly and body-building plants, including General Motors and the Ford Company of Australia. Hundreds of others are working part time. General Motors will shortly discharge 1,000 workers. It is hoped, however, to employ these men in the manufacture of war materials.

As the domestic supply of gasoline from native oil does not exceed 10,000 gallons a year, Australia will encourage production of gas from charcoal and foster measures for supplying other liquid fuels.

Shale deposits in New South Wales are expected soon to be able to produce 10,000,000 gallons of oil annually. The 1,000,000 gallons of power alcohol produced annually from sugar cane and molasses may be increased to 4,000,000 gallons. Gasworks produce 4,000,000 gallons of benzol annually.

The oil produced from Australian shale will be protected against refined gasoline for 15 years by a duty of 7 pence a gallon. Gasoline refined in Australia will be protected against crude petroleum by a duty of 5 pence a gallon provided it is in production in the next two months.

HITLER SEES SIGHTS OF PARIS

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN—Adolf Hitler paid an extended incognito visit to Paris yesterday and visited the tomb of Napoleon.

Hitler is known to admire greatly the French Emperor. While foreign correspondents who visited the Hotel des Invalides in Paris last week found Napoleon's tomb still covered with sandbags, all these had been removed by yesterday for Hitler's incognito visit.

The German Fuehrer visiting the Eiffel Tower, stood apparently deeply impressed by its graceful lines and the superb view of the banks of the Seine.

A smile of satisfaction crept over his face as he saw the Nazi swastika fluttering in the breeze high atop the tower.

Then Hitler hurried on to the beautiful Madeleine Church. He also spent considerable time in France's Hall of War Trophies. (This apparently meant the Cour d'Honneur, and the Musee de l'Armee, in the Hotel des Invalides at the rear of Napoleon's tomb.)

What other spots in the French capital were visited by Hitler the informant didn't know, but he took it for granted he went to the Louvre and the Cathedral of Notre Dame.

PLEDGES BELGIAN AID FOR BRITAIN

LONDON (CP)—Marcel Henri Jaspar, Health Minister in the refugee Belgian government, declared today in London that the Belgian empire "will continue the war, trusting in the word of Great Britain and the Empire which she has called to her aid."

Jaspar issued a statement saying he had received "a great number" of telegrams from Belgian associations in all parts of the British and French Empires and from the Belgian Congo pledging support.

"My aim," he added, "is to put all the considerable resources at our disposal at the service of the British Empire of honor and liberty."

(Jaspar is the only Belgian minister so far to arrive in Great Britain. Reports from German-occupied France have claimed that the other ministers have been investigating the possibilities of following France's example in treaty with the enemy.)

Pilots Made Mistake

BERNE, Switzerland (AP)—Switzerland has announced receipt of a note from Britain stating planes which bombed the Geneva-Lausanne area June 12, killing seven persons and injuring 28, were British planes whose pilots believed they still were over Italian territory. Britain said she would make reparations for the damages.

NAZI TRANSPORT SUNK OFF NORWAY

LONDON (CP)—An Admiralty communique today said: "Off the south coast of Norway one of our submarines, H.M.S. Tetrarch (Lieut. Commander R. G. Mills), has sunk a deeply laden enemy transport of about 8,000 tons. This transport was hit by two torpedoes.

"The transport was escorted by four motor torpedo boats. These unsuccessfully counter-attacked the submarine with depth charges.

"Enemy aircraft which appeared on the scene were eluded."

'Calling Canada' Ad. Investigated

OTTAWA (CP)—Law officers of the Justice Department and the press censors will report on an advertisement published in certain newspapers by an organization named "Calling Canada."

Telling the Commons he had asked for a report, Justice Minister Lapointe said the advertisement contained a "dastardly attack" on Prime Minister King, and that the comment in it was the more malicious in that the facts were false.

The advertisement was headed "Calling Mr. King." It dealt with evacuation of British children to Canada, and accused the Prime Minister of being an obstacle to bringing of the children, overseas.

Mr. King said he had no comment on the advertisement, but wished to assure the House his earlier statements on the evacuation of British children, including one in which he said the British government wished to send interned prisoners first, were based on official documents. He read some messages from Hon. Vincent Massey, High Commissioner in London, and sent others to Conservative Leader Hanson.

One message urged an early decision by Canada on the British proposal to send internees to the Dominion. Another said the British government had agreed to the use of troopships to transport Canadian civilians back to Canada, but that the Ministry of Shipping wanted to send internees on the ships also.

Mr. Massey said he felt evacuation schemes would not be completed by the time the first convoy left.

Mosley Tried

LONDON (CP)—Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of the British Fascists who has been in prison since May 23, was tried secretly in chancery court yesterday.

DEMOBILIZATION STARTS IN FRANCE

BORDEAUX (delayed) (AP)—Gen. Joseph Doumenc, commissioner of national reconstruction for France, was placed in charge of the demobilization of the French armed forces today.

As commissioner he has charge of re-establishing communications and repatriation of the civilian population.

The food decrees signed by President Albert Lebrun at yesterday's cabinet meeting went into effect. They restrict the amount of flour to be used in baking bread; forbid pastry, ice cream and other de luxe products, and forbid restaurants to serve butter at tables.

A call to the cabinet to meet at 11 a.m. today under Premier Marshal Petain was canceled. Instead, President Lebrun called a meeting for 3 p.m. to decide when the government should move and where it will go.

Vancouver Couple Killed in Crash

MERRITT, B.C. (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Morley J. McComb of Vancouver were killed last night when their automobile plunged down a 200-foot embankment, 10 miles south of Spences Bridge.

They were driving from Merritt when the accident happened. Provincial police said their automobile apparently got out of control on a curve in the road and went down the embankment.

The wreck was discovered several hours later by a stage driver, who noticed tracks of a car leaving the road.

After he had investigated he notified police here.

Coroner A. S. Gillis of Merritt said the victims had been dead "several hours" before the discovery. The automobile was demolished.

Germany Caught Napping?

IT MAY BE A DAY OR SO BEFORE THE world learns just how surprised, if at all, Germany was when it became known that Russia had presented to King Carol a problem too difficult for Rumania to solve by the employment of armed force. As we suggested in these columns yesterday, there could be little likelihood that the Nazi chief would willingly condone Soviet encroachment on Balkan territory, particularly territory in which Germany is specifically interested because of its oil and food supplies. True, news from Berlin, before the government at Bucharest had signified its willingness to consent to the return of Bessarabia, intimated that the Teuton hierarchy was not concerned. It was even reported that Hitler had told King Carol to accede to Stalin's "request." But the German version bore unmistakable signs of surprise and apprehension. The Russian bear was casting its shadow across the Danube and placing one of its paws on the western shore of the Black Sea.

For many weeks, of course, Germany has been pressing King Carol to demobilize a substantial part of his army for work in the fields, and had urged him to speed up fuel deliveries. The monarch had even taken full political control of his country—presumably to facilitate compliance with the Fuehrer's requirements. It was at this stage that Russia timed her entrance into the scene. Let it not be supposed, however, that the erection of what looks like a serious obstacle to Nazi ambitions in the Balkans presages solace for Britain's increased difficulties. But if the most that can be read into these new developments is that the Soviet government intends to prevent the realization of an ancient German dream—through passage from the Reich to the Black Sea—British statesmen will not be slow to use such tactical advantages as may now be feasible. Still to be clarified, incidentally, are the prospects of Rumanian objection to Hungary's attempt to employ methods—for the return of Transylvania—similar to those which preceded Russia's acquisition of Bessarabia and other important territorial concessions.

What is clear, and it affects Italy as well as her Teuton master, is that a general Balkan flare-up at this stage is about the last thing Germany desires. Now more emphatically and urgently than since war broke out last September is she in need of foodstuffs and oil and other supplies. Her prodigious use of her heavy equipment, the nightly destruction of reserve stores of fuel which the Royal Air Force is carrying out with such precision, is now exacting payment. With Russia holding a strategic position in Rumania, with King Carol obviously seized with a bad attack of the political and territorial jitters, anything may happen in southeastern Europe. And it is difficult to see how any major probabilities could be good news for Adolf Hitler and Company or for the puppet dictator in Rome.

The Amateur Won

THREE MONTHS AGO MR. WENDELL Willkie, former Democrat and utilities magnate, began to make a serious bid for the Republican nomination for President of the United States. As recently as two months ago all the party professionals completely ruled out his chances; they regarded him as politically impossible. But despite the fact that he had never held political or public office, that he had no machine or well-oiled organization behind him, this native son of Indiana confidently predicted he would win the nomination on the sixth or seventh ballot. Two weeks ago, speaking in Washington, he became definitely specific and said his supporters had told him he would be the nominee, "and I think I should be." Mr. Willkie came out on top in the convention at Philadelphia last night with a substantial margin over the 501 votes he required. And it was on the sixth ballot!

Seasoned politicians in the "city of brotherly love" felt the impetus of the "Willkie boom" as soon as the delegates began to assemble last Sunday. They could not understand how so much of what has been described as "spontaneous, volunteer, amateur enthusiasm" could have been generated in so short a time without the traditional mechanism associated with political advancement and procedure. They knew, of course, that Mr. Willkie's bitter hostility to the New Deal furnished one basic justification for serious consideration of his claim for recognition; he could not be dealt with perfunctorily. The unusualness of his whole campaign, moreover, not to mention his own confidence, probably had caused some of them to wonder if they were to be treated to a new form of political "Blitzkrieg." Their apprehension was well founded.

It is much too early to speculate on the Republican party's chances of victory next November. Until Mr. Roosevelt has signified his intention to run, or not to run, for a third term the public of the United States no doubt will take stock of the Republican platform in its entirety and Mr. Willkie's particular attitude to the country's foreign policy. Of all the aspirants for the nomination at the convention the victor of the ballots has more in common with the President. It is to be noted, too, that he is a bitter foe of totalitarianism and is generally considered to favor Mr. Cordell Hull's program of reciprocal trade treaties. In these matters, of course, Canada and the rest of the British Empire are vitally interested. This much can be said, therefore, Mr. Willkie's nomination would appear to be the final blow to Republican isolationism.

Policies and Platforms

POLITICAL PLATFORMS ARE CON-structed to appeal to the supporters of all parties; they would be purposeless if they were otherwise built. The Republicans at Philadelphia did an excellent job with theirs. Idle men and idle capital and idle farms are to be put to work. There is to be increased security for the aged and a "real chance" for those in early life. American labor, industry, and agriculture are to be protected by the tariff policy a Republican government would adopt. Sound money, conservation of the public credit and economy in expenditures, government jobs on the basis of merit, equality of opportunity in industrial and political life, and a recommendation that no President seek a third term are among the planks driven into the party structure at the national convention.

There is nothing very much our neighbor cannot do if its people, the masses and the interests, make up their minds to do it. Within its vast area of 3,685,382 square miles it can produce almost everything it needs for its own welfare, with a large surplus for export. But, in a world which is completely mad and likely to be suffering for years from the horrible economic and social dislocation to which it now is being subjected, neither the United States nor any other country can lay down a hard and fast policy with an assurance the march of events will not throw it overboard whether its architects like it or not. Definite constructive domestic objectives, however, should be laid down—if only to permit their discussion to show how relatively dependent they are for attainment on policies that involve the country's association with the outside world.

More Machines Wanted

SOME OF OUR ARMCHAIR STRATEGISTS find it difficult to believe that this war is not being fought on the same principles as the battles in South Africa, were fought 40 years ago—or even those of the first Great War. Military authorities who have had first-hand experience in Belgium and France are more persistent than ever in their declaration that machines and more machines must be supplied to Britain and the rest of the Empire as speedily as possible. These include, of course, airplanes, tanks, guns of every calibre, and all the ammunition that can be turned out of the thousands of plants now in operation. It should not be necessary to point out, moreover, that a steady stream of men will be required as the war progresses. These must be recruited, equipped and trained to fill the gaps that may be occasioned as the two totalitarians try to expand their activities in Europe and the Near East, and extend it to Great Britain herself.

As Mr. Lewis C. Ord, general manager of Canadian Associated Aircrafts Limited, said in Montreal on his return from Britain—where he has been in touch with officials who ought to know what is required—the war has now reached a point where "it is not a question of men" but of the manufacture of munitions of all kinds. But when a contemporary describes this as a dangerous half-truth it does not make any allowance for the expert view which has a clear conception of how aircraft has influenced the tide of battle to date—not to our liking—and how it will gradually become a substantially decisive factor when the Royal Air Force has equalled and surpassed her enemies' strength in wings. Far be it from us to get involved in technical questions; but Britain's industrial establishments are vulnerable, as anyone who knows the country at all will agree. In other words, should Nazi air raids against them in the next few days or weeks be conducted on lines similar to their recklessness to those followed in the countries now compelled to fly the Swastika, the damage done might be more serious than words could adequately describe. And Canada must anticipate intelligently such an industrial dislocation.

Explaining Chamberlain

Veteran in Toronto Star
It is surprising to see that at this late date there is anybody in Canada who has the temerity to defend Neville Chamberlain's Munich policy. Mr. Chamberlain, a defender says, knew very well that France and England were not prepared for war at that time, and he saved the situation. Granted that Germany was better armed at that time than France and England, it is hard to see how the balance could be restored by giving her the Czech air fleet and the Skoda works. Lloyd George, Winston Churchill, Anthony Eden and Duff Cooper, all of whom were in a position to know the facts, were violently opposed to the settlement, and they were not "superficial thinkers." Instead of England being left alone to fight Germany as she is now, Germany would have had to fight half Europe with the bandit Mussolini sitting on the side lines.

All the facts go to show that Mr. Chamberlain was not so interested in maintaining peace, as he was in trying to direct Germany's military might against Russia. His policy backfired.

It is true that Mr. Chamberlain is not alone to blame for this terrible situation; the whole party which supported him must bear their share. Their policy has resulted in the scuttling of the League of Nations, the breaking of the Franco-Soviet pact, the gift of Austria and Czechoslovakia to Germany, and the establishment in Spain of a Fascist government favorable to Hitler. Had they all been taking their orders from Berlin they could hardly have acted differently. What is the explanation? Just three words: fear of socialism.

Bruce Hutchison

50 PER CENT

ADDED TO THE existing duties and exchange rate of 11 per cent against Canada, the new 10 per cent tax on all goods imported from non-Empire countries creates a total tariff against most American goods of perhaps 50 per cent. Some businessmen insist that the new tax will not effect the desired result, will not reduce purchases of American goods, but may give the government large new revenues. This is not the opinion of Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of Finance. He expects the tax to yield only $50,000,000 this year, a relatively small item, and does not regard it as a revenue producer but as a sales deterrent.

Few people seem to have noticed his final warning—that if these purely fiscal barriers were not enough the government would have to take other means to conserve its American dollars. In plain terms Canada will have only so many American dollars this year. It does not matter how the books are kept or the taxes levied, only that number of American dollars can be used to buy U.S. goods.

DOLLARS AND PASSPORTS

IF THE SUPPLY of American dollars runs short the Foreign Exchange Control Board can simply prevent Canadians from getting foreign exchange to make purchases. This may well be necessary for Col. Ralston says that the government intends to use the available dollars not to buy luxuries and consumer goods but essential war materials.

Working from the other end, the government has moved to encourage the flow of American dollars northward by announcing that no passports will be required of American tourists. They will come in here freely as in the past, bringing their money with them. But it is learned that the tourist business has been dealt a grave blow by the action of the U.S. requiring Canadians to carry passports to cross the border. At first glance this might seem to be a help to Canada since it discourages the movement of Canadians and their money out of the country. The actual result, however, is to make many Americans imagine there are difficulties in crossing the border and thousands of them have canceled train and hotel reservations.

PAY MORE FOR GAS

IT IS EXPECTED by Ottawa that the sale of Turner Valley oil in British Columbia will be extended gradually and the imports of American gasoline reduced proportionately. Probably some advance in the price of gasoline to the consumer may be necessary and that would occur anyway as a result of the new 10 per cent tax on imported American oil products. But no large increase is anticipated and no rationing of gasoline for the present anyway. However, Canadian motorists, hard hit by new taxation of various sorts, are expected to use less gasoline while the Canadian government in its air training plan will largely increase its consumption.

In any case, it is clear today that the control of the gasoline situation has been lifted bodily out of British Columbia and placed in the hands of the federal government. Where the provincial authorities conducted their own war with the oil companies and secured a price reduction a few weeks ago, control now will be exercised by Ottawa for the duration of the war as part of its general supervision of the whole Canadian economy.

Obviously, we are witnessing now an almost complete concentration of economic power in the federal authority.

TAP NEW FIELDS

THE OIL PROGRAM extends eastward as well as westward. Turner Valley oil dominates the prairie market as far as Winnipeg, but it is hoped that it will reach Ontario also. At present, Alberta produces 24,000 barrels a day with wells operating on a rationing basis, but the federal authorities have been assured that the field could produce 35,000 barrels a day without opening a new well. The market for that extra 10,000 or 11,000 barrels a day now being left in the wells will be found, it is expected, in Winnipeg and British Columbia.

As the scheme develops, Alberta's total production of oil can be enormously increased almost overnight by the opening up of new fields at Vermilion, Steveston, Moosestone and Jumping Pound. The federal authorities are assured that Alberta can serve not only the entire west of Canada, but a considerable part of the east as well. But it cannot supply the fuel oil needed in the west. British Columbia apparently must continue importation of this product from the United States in large quantities.

Part of the new program will be the improvement of oil refineries in the Turner Valley to produce airplane gasoline needed in Canada's war aviation program. The government may assist the oil companies to undertake these improvements.

A RANDOM THOUGHT

I would some mystic power was mine,
To make the Star of Peace to shine,
To put an end to all this strife,
This loss of property and life;
God never meant this world to be
What it now is, by man's decree;
So let us all unite in prayer
That He may take us to his care,
And grant this earth again to be
A land of Peace and Liberty.
Is this a dream or is it true?
The answer must remain with you.

PITTMAN'S PIFFLE

SENATOR KEY PITTMAN'S advice to Britain to scuttle out of the homeland forthwith, and use the Royal Navy to fight the war from Canada, is not just impertinent, it comes dangerously close to what President Roosevelt described as Mussolini's stab in the back against France on the most crucial day of the battle for Paris.

This war is not being fought by bombs and tanks alone. Hitler's two deadliest weapons are treachery and defeatism. The most menacing danger to the British Isles at this very moment is not the expeditionary force which the Germans will soon dispatch. It is the idea that those Germans will win, and that resistance to the invasion is therefore futile.

When Hitler says that over the radio, or when Lord Haw Haw or other traitors say it for him, loyal Britishers know what to think. But when one of President Roosevelt's closest associates says it that will be two reactions: The milder type of people will feel regret, and be inclined to say "Et tu Brute." The rest of us will experience a more basic emotion and be inclined to reply that the home and birthplace of freedom will be defended every mile, every acre and every inch, regardless of what Hitler or Key Pittman or anybody else thinks or does, or fails to do.

TEST

A GOOD TEST of a man's warnings, or other comments on this life, is to see what he has been saying and doing over the last 10 years, and how well his sayings and doings have stood the test of actual events. In this connection I do not think that Senator Key Pittman can claim any exalted position. For many years he has been chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate. He has been as much responsible for the policies of that body as all but a few others in the whole world. If there is any government whose policies have been shown to be completely inadequate in the light of actual events that is the one with which Senator Pittman is connected. For if it is true that Britain is not as well prepared as she should be to meet the Nazi onslaught, following the sellouts and sur-

EVERY 17 YEARS

From New York Times
Our hearty thanks are hereby paid to the wide-awake Times reporter who notified us of the imminent reappearance of the so-called 17-year locust, whose proper name is cicada or cicada. This is the Methuselah of insects, whose life is its existence. For 16 years or so it is a grub, working underground, sucking the tree roots. Toward May-end or early June the adult as a grasshopper comes.

The musician of the family is the male. He has an apparatus that has been compared to a couple of kettle-drums. "Cicada" is the Latin representation of the sound. To the Greek ear it was "tettix."

Sometimes the tettixes were kept in rush-cages, distant precursors of our canaries. A practical as well as poetical people, the Greeks used both the larva and the full-grown grasshopper as a shoe-horn to thrust Homer's old men retired from the ring. "In summer days like grasshoppers rejoice." Best of all, the tettix, ancient and autochthonous, became a symbol of the earth-origin of the Athenians. In the knot of hair on the crown of the head they wore a cicada-headed pin of gold. Golden grasshoppers let us call these guests of June. Each year they come in broods—their classes; and this is their commencement month.

'SPOKEN LETTERS'

From Manchester Guardian
A new form of postal service, the "Fonopostal," was started a year ago by the Argentine government. The Fonopostal is a spoken letter. It may be registered and sent to any part of the world. The service is in operation in Buenos Aires and in large cities in the interior. Each post office equipped to accept Fonopostals has a series of double booths connected by a glass panel to permit the postal technician at the voice-registering apparatus to signal to a client when to begin or to stop speaking into the microphone before him. One part of the booth is for the client and is equipped with a microphone. The other, but the postal employee can not hear what is being dictated into it. When registration is finished the record is run off for the client to see that it was properly done.

The records thus made are substantial. The cost is only one and six for the record, registration, a special Fonopostal envelope, two special needles, and postage. British residents in Argentina are sending hundreds of these "spoken letters" to England.

renders in Belgium and France, it is much more true that the United States is even less prepared to meet what she would have to face if Britain were to meet the fate France met. Is that the real reason for the Pittman speech?

The best brains in the British navy are convinced that the same navy can prevent Hitler from establishing the kind of communication he would have to establish to invade Britain successfully. It is a gross falsehood to say, in this connection, that Britain is not ready. The navy has been getting ready for about 1,100 years. It was never quite so ready as it is right at this moment. If it fails to meet the test then there will be years of blackout in Europe.

But it will not fail.

WILL NEVER RUN AWAY

AS A MATTER of fact the physical task of stopping Hitler from crossing the Channel is much simpler than would be the task of stopping him from crossing the Atlantic if Britain too had had to lower her flag. There is no myth quite so silly as that America is geographically isolated from possible invasion from the old world. Russia at this very moment is building an airport 20 miles from the tip of Alaska. Iceland, Greenland and Baffinland provide a myriad of easy stepping stones for Nazi air fleets. Nature has made in Greenland the finest natural landing field in all the world, for about 10 months of every year. The place to stop Hitler is in Europe. The time to stop him is now. The people to stop him are the men, women and children in all the world who realize that he has to be stopped, whatever the cost, and wherever he can be stopped.

Hitler cannot get into England, with strength strong enough to stay there, unless traitors clear the path for him, or defeatism paralyzes the hearts and arms of the British people. That is why I think history will class the Pittman speech, not as the frank warning of a real friend, but as the shameful utterance of one whose own heart had failed him for fear of those things he saw coming on the earth.

England may go under, sometime or other in the course of history. But if I know England, she will never run away.

MRS. CHAMBERLAIN

Vancouver News-Herald Correspondence
There is a rumor round town that Mrs. Chamberlain is a German and was Miss Krupp. This is not so. Not because I hold any brief for the Chamberlains, or her culpable weakness, but for the credit of the Empire, I wish to quote the following from an authorized biography: "Mrs. Chamberlain was Anne Vere Cole, born in Edinburgh, only daughter of Major and Mrs. Cole. Major Cole was in 3rd Dragoon Guards and was in India."

"When she was six, an uncle by marriage, Sir Howard Elphinstone in the Royal Engineers, V.C. in the Crimean War, was drowned."

"Christmas was spent at their grandfather's home in Berkshire."

"Mrs. Cole's (mother) grandfather was Sir Aubrey de Vere and her mother's uncle, Aubrey de Vere-Anne went to school at Windsor, and her two brothers at Eton."

These are quotations from a long biography—and the truth. Daughter of late Major W. U. Cole, Annie Vere wed Neville Chamberlain in 1911—couple had one son, one daughter. Ed.

REPORT FROM FAR EAST

From Toronto Star
In China the Japanese captured Fanchang, an important city on the Yangtze, at the entrance to the "gorges" 10 days ago, only to be driven out by a Chinese counter offensive. The Japanese are crowding France and Britain with a view to stopping all military material going to China. Hongkong is being threatened by Japanese troop movements. Russia's present attitude towards China and Japan is not clear.

Ask Citizens To Fly Flags

The Native Sons of Canada, Victoria Assembly No. 1, in session last evening in the A.O.F. Hall, passed a resolution requesting all businessmen and citizens of Victoria to display the Canadian ensign, Union Jack or both, on their homes and places of business.

It was reported that travelers and tourists had remarked upon the absence of British and Canadian flags flying in the city in marked contrast to those displayed in Vancouver and other Canadian cities. Members agreed that all Canadians should show colors at this time.

A personal letter was read from Hon. C. G. Powers, acting

Minister of National Defence, thanking the assembly for suggestions regarding formation of reserve units of the nonpermanent active militia. According to press reports, it was stated, some of the suggestions had been adopted by the defence authorities.

Members of the Victoria Dominion Day celebrations committee reported that a splendid program of sports, including a regatta at the Gorge, had been completed for Monday.

A mass patriotic sacred service will be held at Beacon Hill Park Sunday at 3, it was announced. The Victoria Ministerial Association, in co-operation with the Salvation Army Band, will be in charge.

STOMACH BLOAT, KIDNEY, BOWEL DISTRESS GONE, PRAISES MOSBY'S TONIC!

Miss Jones of Carey Road, Victoria, Had Sharp Pains Across Back Due To Sluggish Kidneys—Bowels Constipated—Stomach Swollen With Gas—Now Mosby's Tonic Has Given Her Relief and She Feels Like Herself Again

MISS A. P. JONES, of R.M.D. 3, Carey Road, Victoria, Who Says: "In 2 Weeks' Time, MOSBY'S TONIC Made Me Feel Like My Real Self Again, After Years of Suffering. I Gladly Endorse This Splendid Medicine."

Another Actual Instance of Relief from Long Suffering came to light here a few days ago in a statement about MOSBY'S TONIC received from Miss A. P. Jones of R.M.D. 3, Carey Road, Victoria. Mosby's Tonic is a New, Scientific Compound of Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Ingredients which has recently created so much discussion here in Victoria and which is being introduced to the public daily at the Cunningham Drug Store, Fort and Doug's Sts. Miss Jones is a lifelong resident of this vicinity and has hundreds of friends all over Victoria. Read what she has to say about Mosby's Tonic. Find out—for yourself—what this medicine CAN DO!

Sleep Wrecked Nightly By Sluggish Kidneys

"Some years ago I began to suffer with weak, sluggish kidneys," said Miss Jones. "This kidney sluggishness finally had a distressing effect on me. I got so bad that my sleep was disturbed at nights and I became rundown and had no energy at all. I had sharp pains across my kidneys that were intense, and sometimes my whole body simply ached, night and day. I also had an Upset Stomach and would bloat with gas every time I ate a meal, and my stomach seemed to be full of an acidous fermentation. My bowels were so sluggish and stubborn that I had to take laxatives CONSTANTLY. All of this health trouble made me so weak and rundown that I didn't know what to do with myself."

A Splendid Change In Two Weeks' Time

"I spent money all the time for medicines and tried about everything I heard of, but never found anything to do me any real good. And then one day I read the testimonial of a person who had taken Mosby's Tonic and got excellent relief. So I got this medicine and started taking it. In just TWO WEEKS' TIME there was a Splendid Change in me. This medicine was just what I needed. Now my sleep is not disturbed by sluggish kidneys any more. I can go to bed and get my proper rest. The pains are gone from my back, and I have no more of that gas and bloating after meals. Also my sluggish bowels are relieved. In short, I feel like my real self once again since I took Mosby's Tonic and you don't know what a joy that is to me. I gladly give this statement, endorsing Mosby's Tonic to all who suffer as I did, and I hope what I say here will cause many others to get this Fine Medicine and take it."

It Helps to Clear Away The Poisonous Wastes

MOSBY'S TONIC helps to clear away poisonous wastes from the system in several ways at once—that is, it acts as a cathartic, laxative, choleragogue and diuretic all at the same time and helps cleanse bowels, assists to flush excess impurities from kidneys, brings forth gas and food from stomach and stimulates the flow of liver bile. Many people write us they soon feel like different men and women as a result of this cleansing and invigorating action of Mosby's Tonic. Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells the price of Mosby's Tonic is reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY!

MOSBY'S TONIC is sold in Victoria at the CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Streets, and also sold by all Leading Druggists throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Letters to the Editor

WENT OVER THE TOP

To the Editor—May I on behalf of the Salvation Army thank the public of Victoria who so generously and wholeheartedly supported the recent campaign of the Army in connection with its National War and Home Service effort. You will be glad to know that the objective of $20,000 set for Victoria has been exceeded, and contributions still continue to come in. This excellent showing through the sympathetic support of our citizens generally, the fine co-operation and indefatigable efforts of the divisional chairmen and their workers, and last, but by no means least, the splendid assistance given by the press. For all of these, on behalf of the Salvation Army, I tender my sincere thanks.

S. K. CAMPBELL,
General Campaign Chairman.

How to Overcome Piles and Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Store or any druggist, a package of Hemorrhoid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemorrhoid is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

Mrs. A. Carmichael Heads Regional Council

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — Mrs. A. Carmichael of Victoria was elected president of the British Columbia Regional Council of Canadian Clubs at the annual convention here yesterday.

Charles Brazier, Vancouver, was named first vice-president and W. T. Straith of Victoria, second vice-president.

The convention adopted a resolution calling on the federal government to amalgamate the immigration and naturalization branches of the federal service under one cabinet minister.

Other resolutions proposed by the Vancouver Canadian Club, and adopted, asked for amalgamation of the departments and complete utilization of the special knowledge of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the investigation of applicants for naturalization.

They further endorsed a resolution calling for creation of a preparatory course in citizenship in which all applicants would have to participate, and repeal of the present domicile laws so that naturalized aliens may be deported as if they had not secured domicile.

A special meeting of Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie Chapter I.O.D.E. will be held at headquarters, Wednesday, July 3, at 10.30 a.m.

I.O.D.E. Is Urged to Report Disloyal Utterances

"Whereas cases of disloyalty to the Throne and Empire of Britain have already been brought up for trial in the Canadian courts, therefore be it resolved that each and every member of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire in Victoria report to the proper authorities, the R.C.M.P., the A.R.P. or Provincial Police, without delay any disloyal or unpatriotic action heard or seen under the British flag."

This resolution, sponsored by the educational secretaries of the I.O.D.E. chapters and presented by Mrs. F. E. Beckett, was unanimously endorsed by the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. at its meeting held yesterday afternoon at the headquarters, Union Building. Mrs. J. Kyrie Symons, the regent, presided.

BOMBER FUND $700
The bomber fund was steadily increasing, it was reported, already $700 having been donated by the members and friends of the order, in addition to the gold and silver donated to a special fund. It was announced that the Alexandra Rose Day results for child welfare had amounted to $355.33, and a donation of $4 worth of war savings stamps had been made on the day, the donor bringing the gift to the headquarters.

The Echoes secretary reported an increase of 80 subscribers over last year. The film convenor announced that several British films were to be shown in Victoria, the first, on July 15, to be at the Capitol Theatre and admission would be by means of war savings stamps.

Mrs. F. E. Dowdall presented the war convenor's report, prepared by Mrs. J. L. Gates.

It was requested that primary chapters get in touch with the assistant municipal secretary, Mrs. C. H. Cross, regarding the reservation of dates for chapter activities during the summer.

W.A. Life Members Are Guests of Bishop

About 60 Diocesan and Dominion W.A. life members of the Columbia diocese were welcomed at the enjoyable garden party given by the Bishop of Columbia and Mrs. H. E. Sexton at Bishop's Close yesterday afternoon. Assisting the host and hostess in receiving the guests, some of whom came from Westholme and Sanichton, was Deaconess Simcox, convener of the Life Members' Association. Tea was served in the Memorial Hall, with the Cathedral Evening Branch of the W.A. in charge of refreshments. At 5, the bishop conducted a short service of intercession in his new chapel, and afterwards explained the decorations and their symbolism.

The first self-hardening tool steel was produced in 1868.

Oregon Woman Wins $10,000 Prize

BOSTON (AP)—A story plucked from a chapter of her own life—the tale of an exiled White Russian family set against the background of Tientsin, China—has brought the 1940 Atlantic novel prize of $10,000 to Mrs. Antonina Riasanovsky of Eugene, Ore., mother of two young sons.

Catholic Convention Hears Reports

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Business sessions continued with committee meetings and reports today at the national convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada.

The president, Mrs. T. H. Hay, Regina, remarking that 131 members were present from points throughout the Dominion, called the convention one of the most important in the league's history.

The international relations report was given by Miss Josephine Lynch, Saint John, who referred to the spread of knowledge, through international affiliation, by articles appearing in the league magazine.

It became more apparent daily, said Mrs. Hay, that the league must be prepared to co-operate fully in all lines of war work.

Cost of the plane will be $100,000, to be borne by 25,478 members of the order throughout the Dominion.

Britain has virtually replaced Germany in the world's toy market.

Business was discussed and refreshments were served at the close.

The Ladies' Aid of Belmont Avenue United Church met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Emery, Gladstone Avenue. The president, Mrs. Butler, was in the chair and 15 members answered the roll call. The visiting committee reported seven calls made. Plans were discussed for the organization of a Red Cross unit and a committee appointed to find out particulars. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Parfitt, Gladstone Avenue, on Tuesday, September 10.

Mrs. W. Bevan entertained the members of Fairfield United Church W.M.S. yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ingram, 166 Robertson Street. Mrs. Gerald Green, the president, conducted the meeting, and Miss Grace Baker, vice-president of the Presbyterian W.M.S., the guest speaker, spoke on three commandments, "Have Faith; Be of Good Cheer; Go On and Work." Mrs. E. T. Siddall, the secretary, read reports, and Mrs. C. A. Field read a paper on Christian stewardship. Mrs. M. Howell sang "When the Roses Bloom Again." Mrs. Field's circle served refreshments. BABY BORN IN RAID
LONDON (CP)—Two girl air-raid wardens served impromptu as doctor and nurse at the birth of a baby Wednesday night in a shelter while sirens screamed an air-raid warning.

"The girls were wonderful," said the baby's grandmother. "And my daughter was a brick. . . we will be satisfied if future raids bring nothing worse."

"No time for outdoor exercise BUT I KEEP FIT!"

How does young Mrs. L. keep so well? For one thing, she doesn't approve of harsh cathartics . . . nasty doses. Instead, she eats tempting Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning, every month, and keeps fit!

Keep away the "Dull Days"!

If you frequently feel "low," headachy, you're probably depressed by incomplete elimination. So you had better get more "bulk" in your diet to move food wastes promptly.

Wise people everywhere have found appetizing Kellogg's Bran Flakes the happy answer. Gently laxative . . . rich in natural Vitamin B₁ . . . Kellogg's Bran Flakes With-Other-Parts-of-Wheat supply body-building-proteins, too. And they are so positively delicious you'll gladly make them a daily habit. Start the Kellogg's Bran Flakes way tomorrow morning!

To get well, see your doctor

To keep well, watch your habits — especially if you are indoors most of the time, like Mrs. L. She realizes it's better to eat this crisp, toasted, mildly-laxative cereal every day. Right through the year use this easy, pleasant way to get extra "bulk," and so avoid harsh and possibly dangerous drugs.

TRY DOING THIS

Every morning during a whole month, eat a heaping bowl of flaxen full Kellogg's Bran Flakes. Just see if this doesn't put new zest in life! Order the big golden-yellow package today. When you eat out, ask for the war-wrapped individual package. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

ELECTRIC RANGETTES AND HOTPLATES FOR SUMMER COOKING

B.C. ELECTRIC

Fathers and Sons Join Up

Fathers and sons, brothers and uncles and nephews are joining the army together. The 1st Battalion Canadian Scots, particularly, looks as if it will be a "chummy" battalion, with many cases where two or more members of a family are joining at the same time and there are a number of cases where the father, a war veteran, has marched into the recruiting office to do it all over again with his son by his side this time.

Yesterday it was thought the Buxton family of Esquimalt had set a record for brothers in the service.

Four of the eight sons of the family of 14, largest family in British Columbia, are following the footsteps of their soldier father, P. H. B. Buxton, who retired from the army a few years ago after 27 years service.

Fred, 30, and Billy, 23, former featherweight champion boxer of the Pacific coast, are overseas with the Princess Pats. Ken, 26, well-known rugby player, is taking a course with the anti-tank corps. Jim is only 15 years old, but is attached to the 5th Regiment. Sonny Buxton, 28, is in the Provincial Police at Ladysmith.

The other four sons are under military age.

Today comes the information that two sets of four Brantford brothers have joined the C.A.S.F. recently. First were the four sons of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Wilson, in the Highland Light infantry of Canada. They are (left to right, top) Malcolm, 27; Bernard, 19; Joe, 21, and Walter Wilson, 23. All gave up jobs to enlist. The youngest, Bernard, was first to join. He was soon followed by the others. Then three sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brown joined the same unit, to make another four brothers in the service. They are (left to right, bottom) Joe, 34; Eric, 30; Keith, 24, who is overseas with the 54th Battery, and Leslie, 22. Their father is an able pensioner of the Royal Navy. He is awaiting a call to service.

There are three Warburton brothers in the Canadian Scotish R.Q.M.S. Warburton, C.Q. M.S. Warburton and Sergeant Warburton.

Running a close second to the record, there are the three Gray brothers, in Victoria, all clean-cut athletic young men, six feet tall. Two are sergeants, Sergeant Howard K. Gray, 26, Sergeant A. W. Gray, 25, both of the 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish. The third is Private Roger V. Gray, record. The father is a pioneer sergeant. His son, W. E., is in the same unit and another son is in the navy.

Prizes of Bibles and prayer books were awarded to the best boy and girl in each class. At the conclusion of the presentation of prizes and diplomas, a pageant, "Canada," was given by scholars under the direction of Miss Madge Randall.

The rector, Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, who made the presentation, referred to the valuable aid rendered to the church by succeeding generations of the Keer family, culminating in the presentation of the shield to the Sunday school by R. H. B. Ker.

Prizes of Bibles and prayer books were awarded to the best boy and girl in each class. At the conclusion of the presentation of prizes and diplomas, a pageant, "Canada," was given by scholars under the direction of Miss Madge Randall.

Brig. B. W. Browne
New Deputy Chief

OTTAWA (CP)—Brig. B. W. Browne has been appointed deputy chief of the general staff at National Defence Department headquarters here.

Appointment of Brig. G. G. Anglin as district officer commanding Military District No. 7 at Saint John, was announced at the same time by acting Defence Minister C. G. Power.

Appointment of a deputy chief of staff will add to the strength of National Defence headquarters, where the main burden of the organization and equipment of Canada's expanding military forces falls. Brig. Browne will serve as deputy to Major-Gen. T. F. Anderson, chief of the general staff.

The new deputy chief was recently officer commanding Military District No. 10, Winnipeg, and prior to that served as assistant adjutant and quartermaster general in Military District No. 4, Montreal, and No. 1, London.

Brig. Browne was first commissioned in the militia in 1901. He went overseas with the 16th Battalion in the last war and held various administrative staff appointments. He was mentioned in dispatches three times and awarded the Military Cross and the Distinguished Service Order.

TENNIS RESULTS

In the Victoria Tennis Club tournament yesterday one match was run off in the men's open singles with Sherman defeating Brand after three sets 2-6, 6-0, 6-4.

In the handicap mixed doubles, Miss E. Swayne and J. Parker scored a three-set victory over Miss Warnock and Flett, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

3 Faiths Join in Plea
For World Fit for Humans

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.—Speaking from the same platform at a vespers service at the University of Virginia under the auspices of the National Conference of Protestants, Catholics and Jews, representatives of all three faiths called for a dedication of the vital forces of religion in this country to the rebuilding of a world "fit for human beings to live in."

"It is a task not only for religion but one in which all believers in God must unite," the Rev. Dr. T. Guthrie Speers, pastor of the Brown Memorial Church in Baltimore, told the members and guests of the university's Institute of Public Affairs.

The problem, according to Mr. Speers, was one of human relations, to the solution of which religion could make a "tremendous contribution."

"In other parts of the world men are attempting to solve this problem by forced regimentation with results that are disastrous both to individuals and to nations," he went on. "But here in America we believe that the only satisfactory solution is to be found in preserving and expanding our democratic liberties."

"Religion can make us fit for freedom by insisting steadily that since God is the Father of us all, therefore liberty is not the privilege of some but the right of all."

Declaring that "experience in Europe has taught us that we cannot keep liberty for ourselves unless we uphold it for all," Dr. Speers urged vigilant interest in and support of the rights of minorities and of the underprivileged, lest the former be ignored and the latter "be forced by economic insecurity to trade their liberty for promised economic security."

RELIGIOUS DISUNITY
BLAMED

The Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Code of the Catholic University of America agreed that the present world crisis was in part economic, but held that it had its root in the "religious revolt from the unity of the church," which began in the 14th century.

"The once seamless robe of European culture that had been painfully woven through the 2,000 years of classical and Christian civilization has been torn into rags and tatters by the disintegrating forces of the capitalist civilization which began to dominate Europe in the 18th century. Today the crisis is spiritual, a crisis which has overthrown the sound principles of private and public morality, which has reached out even into the international sphere."

For that reason, he said, and because Catholics were suffering in ever country visited by war, the church took no "attitude" toward the present war, her only attitude and great concern being for "a treaty which will usher in a just and lasting peace."

"French and English Catholics are convinced that they are fighting for justice with right on their side," Dr. Code said. "A great number of German Catholics feel that Germany is fighting to redress the wrongs of Versailles. Spanish and Portuguese and Swiss Catholics are trying to be neutral, but should their governments declare in favor of one or the other the belligerents it is almost certain that they, too, will fall in line."

"The church recognizes this fact, and it is only because she alone can rise above the present communication and education, newspaper, radio, school and church to serve as "powerful instruments of information on democracy's problems and of affirmation of its basic principles."

"Tolerance is not enough today, we need militance," he said. "Good will is not enough. We must work for the common good. There must be a mutual dedication for what is higher than ourselves, for the ideal of freedom for religion and of religion for freedom."

"The religious leaders of this country have today a sacred function, to preserve the public opinion of the communities from hysteria and inertia."

"The presence of such a functioning united community of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish leadership will bring to public opinion not the barren utterance of sectarian theologians, nor the vigilance of hysterical ignorance, but the sane guidance of the trusted spiritual forces of the community, mobilized to help America preserve its sacred heritage of liberty."

No mean part of the work at Shasta Dam near Redding, Calif., is the excavation of 30 miles of Southern Pacific railroad track around the site of Shasta reservoir. Besides eight bridges, 12 tunnels—like the two above—must be constructed. Each of these concrete-lined bores is about half a mile long.

1,100 MUZZLE-LOADERS IN BARN—These 1,100 ancient British army muskets of Fenian raid and Northwest rebellion days, which have been stored in barns on the Sir Henry Pollard farm since 1911, have been brought to Toronto armories. Residents of King township feared they might be used by a fifth column. Muzzle-loading Enfields, Mausers and shotguns bearing the date 1873, with bayonets attached, they were carried by the Queen's Own Rifles against Louis Riel. Sergeant H. J. King, Q.O.R., is shown examining a 67-year-old Mauser.

Rome's Terms

Broken-hearted by sacrifices which their beloved France must take to cease fighting the dictators, French plenipotentiaries in Rome hear General Roatta (extreme right), reading the terms of the Italo-French armistice. French envoys, facing the camera, from right: Noel, General Huntziger, Bergeret and Lelub. Italians, backs to camera, from right: Pricola, Cavigliani, Ciano and Roatta. Picture was telephoned from Rome. (Acme radio-telephoto).

Under Nazi Heel

Before historic Versailles Palace, pass these French soldiers who have given up the fight and trudge back from the front. A Nazi motorcyclist passes them.

'We Are Turning a Sombre Page...'

"We are turning a sombre page of history toward new destinies." So said the official French order for a national day of mourning as hostilities ceased. The darkest spot on the sombre page is pictured above—the signing of the armistice with the German conquerors in the historic railroad car in Compiègne Forest. French plenipotentiaries are on left.

More Tax Dollars Mean More Guns and Bullets

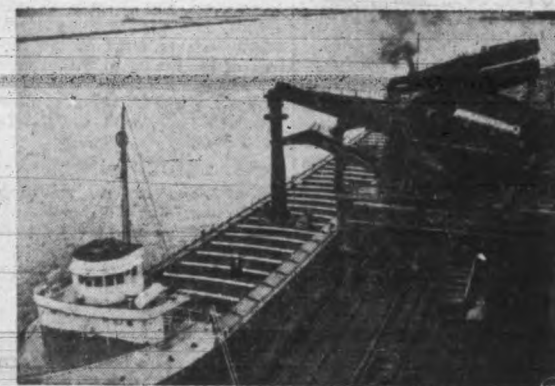

Here, in dollars and cents, is what Canada's new war budget means to the man who buys a good car with a radio, smokes cigars, and carries a camera. Classified as luxuries, all are more heavily taxed, enough in the case of the automobile to mean an increase of 80 per cent of the excess over $1,200. Drastically increased income and wage taxes will mean that this driver pays three to four times as much on personal income as he did last year. The new levies, still not as high as England's, have been accepted in good part by citizens as necessary to win the war.

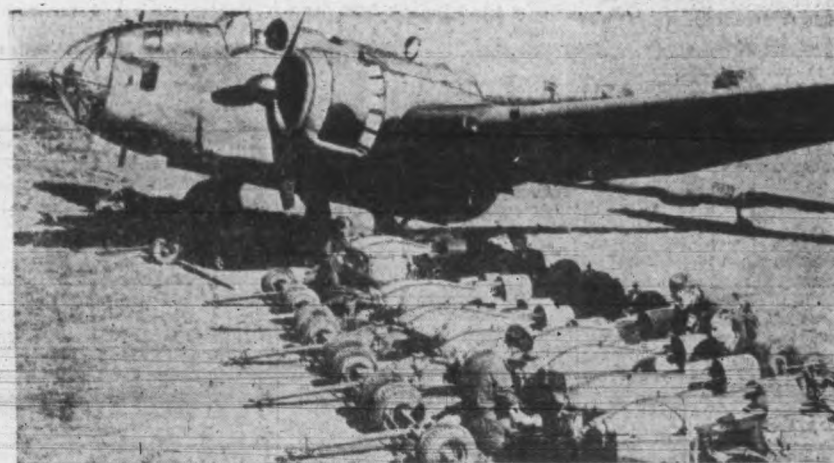

Paris in the Spring

In the foreground, a Frenchman essays to read "Westfront," the German soldiers' newspaper, while Nazi soldiers make themselves at home at one of the sidewalk cafes along the Champs Elysee. (Radiophoto).

FOR ARMAMENTS—Steel, steel and more steel will be needed for the Allies huge armament program—so these Great Lakes ore boats speed raw material from iron mines to the great steel centres of Ohio and Pennsylvania. Above, a giant unloader at work at Cleveland.

Living up to their word to return bomb for bomb, bombers of the Royal Air Force are shown, top, being loaded with bombs just before the start of a bombing raid carried out on German troop concentrations and communications lines. Returning from the raid R.A.F. fliers, bottom, watch with relief the arrival of a tardy member of their party.

Ready to Serve Again

Although too old for the Canadian Active Service Force many veterans like the three above are ready to turn out two nights each week and get in shape to defend their home town if any invader should start poking his nose around. The veterans above are from left to right: J. Green, who served in the Indian Frontier campaign, South Africa, and the Great War; M. Gosnell, who fought South African and Great War medals; and A. L. Minto, also a campaigner in South Africa and the Great War. Last night 170 members of the Britannia Veterans' Training Corps turned out at Victoria High School grounds under Jack Cleator, the postman, who is acting as sergeant-major, and did a lot of hard marching. The boys of the Old Brigade are keen and they'd all like to get another smack at Heine. "We licked him once and we'll lick him again," is the feeling of veterans.

Baseball

Newsom Wins 10th Straight

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

THE newly-developed feud between the Brooklyn and St. Louis National League clubs is encouraging inasmuch as it proves there is still some fight left in baseball.

Things had become too orderly... the players too complacent. Those who prefer decorum at the parks ask whether the customers turn out to see a fight or a ball game.

We would say they like a little bit of both. Certainly in more recent years they have seen little enough real baseball.

While baseball was being built into the tremendous business it is, owners and club presidents were as much a part of their teams as the shortstop.

Now when a club president puts up a fight for his outfit they call him a screwball and write magazine pieces about him.

Such a president is Larry MacPhail who, following the beaming of Joe Medwick, stood in front of the St. Louis dugout and challenged the Cardinals to come out and fight... one at a time or in a body, and then took a punch at the pitcher.

MacPhail is criticized by the more conservative, but the fans love it, and Brooklyn will likely come close to playing to $2,000,000 this season.

John J. McGraw, greatest of all baseball feudists, engineered to mutual advantage the ill-feeling between New York and Brooklyn which exists to this day.

McGraw's Giants of 1906-12 fought the Cubs eye-for-eye and tooth-for-tooth. McGraw kept things stirred up by telegraphing the chief of police on each invasion of the enemy's territory demanding "protection" from Chicago hoodlums.

Once when Barney Dreyfuss stirred the easily-aroused ire of McGraw, Little Napoleon spent the entire series at Forbes Field razzing the Pittsburgh president from the coach's box.

It was the same Dreyfuss who, in 1921, following the Pirates' loss of three consecutive double-headers to the Giants in mid-September, when they seemed on their way to the pennant, stormed into the dressing room and snarled: "Quitters!"

Fans like to see the athletes sharpening spikes, and coming into bases with them flying high.

It would be bad enough if he were broke—which he isn't—so Jack Dempsey's best friends should talk him out of his plan to run around the country belting defeatist wrestlers.

If he doesn't need the money, why is Dempsey in training at 45 for the purpose of putting the slug on muscle-bound behemoths as old as himself?

Our guess is that it is his love for fighting and his longing for the click of the rails which dates back to his kid days as a hobo.

The result can only be the destruction of the picture of Dempsey formed by the millions—young and old—who never saw or knew personally the warrior who could throw fists like no one before or since.

Not long ago, Dempsey refereed a wrestling match in Atlanta between one Cowboy Luttrell and Dorv Roche, antiquated bone benders. As in all razzing runs handled by Dempsey, it was in the script for Bad Man Luttrell to make a pass at Dempsey and for the former champion to floor him.

Longshoremen, Camerons Win

Longshoremen and Cameron Lumber continued their neck and neck race for A section softball honors with a pair of victories last night. The former were really extended to nose out the Garrison 1 to 0 at Victoria West Park, while the Lumbermen walloped Brunsdon's Veterans 7 to 2 at Athletic Park.

Ralph Bonner was the winning hurler in the Longshoremen-Garrison duel. He bested McCorkill in a real pitchers' battle. Only one run of the game came in the seventh, a wild pitch allowing Vic Dale to trot home from third.

In their engagement with Brunsdon, Camerons got off to a two-run lead in the first inning on the strength of Bob McKean's home run with one runner aboard. Brunsdon tied the score in their half of the second. Camerons went ahead again in the third and remained on top for the rest of the game.

"Quat" Ono, Japanese hurler, twirled a smart game for Camerons, allowing four hits. Al Bridger, who worked for Brunsdon, gave up five but had a lot of trouble with his control. On two occasions runners scored from third on wild pitches. A total of 11 errors were chalked up against the clubs, Brunsdon committing seven.

Orr Will Seek A.A.U. Honors

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—America's track and field athletes stage a two-day domestic version of the war-postponed Olympic Games here tonight and tomorrow night in the 32nd running of the annual A.A.U. championships.

An army of stars, nearly 300 from every section of the country, will launch an attack on world and American records under the electric lights in Fresno State College stadium.

College, club and unattached athletes will perform. Even the United States Marines will be represented.

Headlining the competition, at least from a sentimental viewpoint, will be the 1,500 meters run. The event will see Glenn Cunningham, grandpa of the topnotch flat racers, making a bid for his sixth national crown. He recently ran the second fastest 1,500 meters ever clocked in this country, a 3.49 time.

The 400 meters dash will bring together Lee Orr of Washington State College, the new N.C.A.A. champion; Grover Klemmer, University of California, freshman; Warren Breidbach of Michigan and Charles Belcher, formerly of Georgia Tech.

Two of the tickets were held by a service-station proprietor, who refused to give his name for publication. The winning double combined Royal Pirate in the first race and Time Ball in the third, both long shots booted home on a sloppy track. Royal Pirate paid $36.70 for a $2 straight mutual ticket and Time Ball paid $43.50.

Regatta Monday

A feature attraction on the holiday sports' program will be the annual Through Victoria Regatta, at the Gorge Monday afternoon at 2.30, when Vancouver Rowing Club oarsmen will compete against members of the J.B.A.A. in a smart list of events.

In addition to the sculling races there will be several novelty events, always popular at the annual holiday program. They will include canoe races, canoe tilting and log rolling.

In the sculling events, Dave Mowat of Victoria will compete against Ed. Wilson of the Vancouver Rowing Club.

A strong local team will race Vancouver in junior doubles. The locals will be Jim Smith and Pete Morgan, both members of the Reveliers' Canadian football team last year. Smith and Morgan have been training hard for the race against the mainland entry of Bob Bennett and Ed Wilson.

In a junior four race, the Vancouver crew will be Beggs, Greenwood, Rush and Bishop. They will row the locals, Dave Mowat, Bob Mair, Alf Bland and Lew Beasley.

Two heats and the final of the novice four race will round off the program.

The Vancouver crew of Shaw, Bodkin, Lemmon and Craig, averaging 160 pounds, will row the J.B.A.A. crew of George Keeper, Dave Hawkins, Les Maynard and Dick Edmonds, which averages 140 pounds. The winner will row the 160-pound local crew composed of Bill McDonald, Norm Edmonds, Len Bland and Jack Guernsey.

Sweepida Awarded Top Impost Monday

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sweepida, H. C. Hill's crack three-year-old, will carry top impost of 126 pounds in the $10,000 handicap on Monday's turf card for the benefit of the American Red Cross at Hollywood Park.

BOXLA BATTLES

Tonight's box lacrosse games at the Willows Sports Centre will feature midget and juvenile players. At 7.15 Bluebirds and Oaklanders of the midget league will clash. Douglas Tire and Foul Bay of junior company will meet in the second encounter.

Tomorrow the Jokers senior club will travel to Nanaimo for an exhibition game, while on Monday night at the Sports Centre the Alerts will meet Nanaimo Calade. Another Nanaimo club will meet McLean's Bakery juniors in the preliminary starting at 7.15.

Home runs—Foxy, Boston, and Treasky, Cleveland, 17. Stolen bases—Case, Washington, 15.

Pitching—Newsom, Detroit, 10-1.

The earliest marine mine is believed to have been an "explosion ship" with which the Dutch destroyed a boat bridge in 1585.

Two Favorites and Pair Of Outsiders Win Golf

Good Contests In Bike Races

Eric Whitehead and Gar Warren again captured top honors in the Victoria Cycle Racing Club's races at the Cyclo-drome last night.

Showing superiority in the change-overs, the speedy pair won eight out of 11 sprints in the half-hour team event which closed an action-packed program.

Riding second were Jack Barton and Gordon Bell, who won the remaining three sprints. Barton and Bell were always with the leaders but they lost out on the switching for relief and were unable to overtake the top pair.

They had trouble on the ninth mile when Bell was forced to leave the track with cramps. Harold Whitehead replaced him.

Third in the race was the young team of Ron Limer and Ron Warren. They collected 15 points. The winners had 49 points and the second place team 37.

Barton won the five-lap sprint, taking the lead from the start and crossing the finishing line first in 53 seconds flat. He had 25 points. Whitehead finished second with 15 and Bell third with five.

Richmond Back In First Place

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Richmond Farmers got back into their stride in an Inter-city Box Lacrosse League game here last night, and once more are deadlocked with New Westminster.

Farmers last night defeated Adanacs 16 to 14 to move into the tie. They grabbed a 6 to 3 lead in the first quarter, and by half time were ahead 9 to 6. Adanacs evened the count by the end of the third quarter, but two fast goals by Richmond at the start of the last period proved enough for a victory.

Johnny Smith led Richmond scorers with five goals and one assist. Bob Lee topped Adanacs with four goals and one assist.

Sailors dropped back into the runner-up spot Wednesday night when Tillamook Athletics whipped the Eagles and moved into the top spot. The gasmen need a win tonight to keep out of the cellar.

In a second division game last night at Beacon Hill the Eagles blanked the Cubs 3 to 0.

City Hall Briefs

QUERY LABOR ON CITY WORK

Insertion of fair wage clauses in all contracts let by the city is urged in a communication from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council received today at the City Hall.

Registration of particulars of property of every kind and vesting of such holdings in the Crown for war purposes for the duration of the present conflict and for one year after the peace is recommended by the citizens of Armstrong and Spallumcheen in a resolution furnished to the city today. The document also suggests "servicing of interest and charges on all commitments, both public and private, should cease, and also, taxation, federal, provincial, and municipal, and that Parliament should sit continuously and a national cabinet including only those who may be considered most reliable and effective for the prosecution of the war should be forthwith set up."

With no word yet from Ottawa on the disposition of $10,000 Victoria wishes to contribute to Canada's war effort, Mayor McGavin indicated today he would send letters shortly to R. W. Mayhew, city member, and the office of the Prime Minister, asking for instructions on the matter.

The public works and parks committees are scheduled to meet tomorrow morning at 9.30.

The garbage crusher ordered by the city from the Victoria Machinery Depot will be ready for installation when the city secures permission to use the site at the foot of Herald Street to house it, Alderman Ed Williams, public works chairman, announced today. The request for foreshore rights is being pressed by Mr. Mayhew in Ottawa.

TEACHER ADMITS 2 MORE THEFTS

Melvin Glaspeil, suspended Saanich schoolteacher, who pleaded guilty in the City Police Court yesterday to two charges of retaining possession of stolen typewriters, admitted two more similar charges this morning and was sentenced to 10 days' imprisonment.

His term was dated from the time of his arrest 10 days ago. All typewriters were stolen from Mount View High School. Detective H. F. Jarvis of the city police told the court he had investigated the thefts, which occurred last October, and on June 14 located one of the machines at a typewriter repair shop in the city. Subsequent inquiry disclosed three of the machines had been sold for a total of $67, while the fourth was up for sale. Total value of all machines was about $350.

Magistrate Hall granted leniency to the accused on the grounds it was his first offence, and owing to the fact he had a previous good record. In addition, Lieut. E. B. Corby testified the accused had enlisted with the 11th Fortress Signal Company and the commanding officer of that unit was particularly anxious to secure his services, as he had certain qualifications for the post.

Robert A. Stancil was sentenced to one month's imprisonment by Magistrate Hall this morning after pleading guilty yesterday to a charge of stealing a pen and pencil set. A record of four previous convictions was read against Stancil.

At Christ Church Cathedral tomorrow, the Feast of St. Peter, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 7.14 a.m. St. Peter's Day is the fifth anniversary of the consecration of the bishop of the diocese, and also the 34th anniversary of the Dean's ordination as deacon.

Seized From Technocracy

Detective Henry Jarvis is shown checking over literature and paraphernalia seized by a squad which raided offices of Technocracy Inc. in the Pemberton Building yesterday afternoon.

City legal authorities today seized pamphlets and literature undered in a raid yesterday on Technocracy Inc., to determine whether or not "order" prosecution would follow the raid.

While no official ruling had been made this morning it was generally expected there would not be any prosecution but the literature would be held in custody in accordance with the out-law ban on Technocracy ordered by Ottawa.

The material seized included printing paraphernalia and Tech-ocrats' literature which up until now has been freely distributed among newsmen and among those interested in the movement. Executives of the organization were notified when police went into the offices and were permitted to stand by while police seized material from the three-room offices.

Police spent two and a half hours in the offices loading the equipment and this morning it was in custody at headquarters.

Appreciation

For Sale—"The Diamond Ring"

We call it "The Diamond Ring" because it was brought in by a veteran, who explained he wanted to give it to us as he could not give cash. This is typical of the deep-seated determination to help alleviate to some extent the terrible sufferings falling on the world. The Red Cross are doing our work (yours and mine) in the inferno over there. Perhaps you can spare some more things for us to sell. FOOTNOTE—A landscape artist has offered to paint gardens, proceeds to be given to this store in full.

Numbering 35 they came from Nanaimo, Parksville, Cumberland, Port Alberni and intermediate points. The new recruits arrived by bus and swelled to some 200 the number that have come down in the last few days.

Disliked Peaceful Ways

Hitler's rise to power was brought about largely by a burning idea. He believed Germany could win the leading place in the world, and he kept this belief in the dark years after 1918. Millions of German soldiers went back to their homes. Some took up their old work again, but others found it hard to make their way. The hunger of war-time was not ended at once. In fact the suffering grew worse in some places.

Talked to little groups in secret places.

Kaiser Wilhelm II had fled to Holland. The empire fell, and the German republic took its place.

It seemed that slowly, step by step, Germany might work herself out of the horror and sadness of war. Years passed, and the republic lived through those years. Help came from abroad, help in the form of food, and loans of money.

Yet there were some men who did not want the republic to succeed in a peaceful way. They felt that Germany must take revenge against the nations she had fought.

Among such men was one who signed his name "A. Hitler." Perhaps no other was quite so bitter, or quite so filled with the plan to "rise up" some day and crush the foreign foe.

At first Hitler worked with little money, but he had his burning idea, and he found that people would stop to listen when hot words flowed from his tongue. He talked to little groups in secret places, and won several followers.

Month followed month, and larger meetings were held in the city of Munich. Hitler joined what was called the "German Workers' Party." Later this name was changed to the "National Socialist," or "Nazi," party. Hitler kept his hatred of the old Socialist party, but the Socialist name had grown so popular that he used it in naming his party.

Handbills were passed about Munich asking people to come to Hitler's meetings. About 2,500 persons came to listen to Hitler speak at a meeting on September 28, 1922. The handbill which advertised this meeting said: "The whole world is ruled by a gang of Jewish stock exchange bandits. The international bankers decide the fate of the world."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a mother, aged 38, with a daughter of 13. I want her to go out with boy friends and have a swell time and get all the fun out of life that can be had. My trouble is that my maid calls my daughter by her first name. I don't like it, but when I told her that she must address my daughter as "Miss" she gave me the worst talking I ever got in my life. She said my daughter was a brat and wasn't entitled to be called Miss, and that I was the biggest fool mother she ever saw and was not fit to rear a child.

In two years' time I have had 20 maids. This one has been with me longer than any and I hate to give her up, but I think she ought to call my daughter Miss. I admit that my daughter is very much behind in her studies at school, and the maid said that if I would spend as much time helping her with her studies as I do helping her with her boy friends that I would see a great improvement.

A DISTRESSED MOTHER.

Answer—It seems to me that this maid is a sort of emissary sent by Providence to show you the error of your ways, and that if you are wise you will listen to her and profit by her good advice.

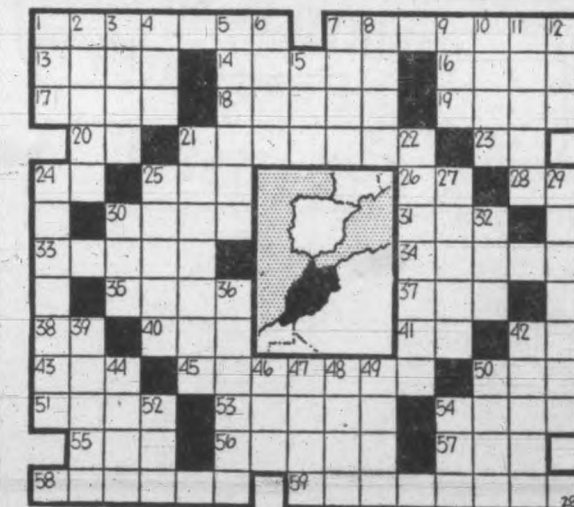

It is a matter of no importance whether she calls your daughter Miss or not, but it is of great importance that you recognize that you are starting out to bring up your little girl with the wrong ideals of life. You are forcing her into a premature grown-upness. You are filling her head with ideas of sex and attracting men, and clothes, and parties before she is ready for such things, or has the judgment and knowledge of life to deal with the problems they raise.

You are teaching her that this great object in life is to have a gay time instead of doing one's duty in the world. You are even depriving her of an education, because no girl can combine study and boy friends and not ditch the studies. No girl of 13 should be having dates with boys. So I earnestly entreat you to follow the counsel your maid has given you.

And, anyway, if I had had 20 maids in two years, I would begin a little soul-searching to see if there wasn't something the matter with me that none of them could stand me.

Willkie Chosen on 6th Ballot

Two bits of action not on the program at the Republican national convention. While police were settling a fight around the Virginia banner (upper right), during the demonstration for Wendell Willkie

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wendell Willkie, the businessman who turned into a politician overnight, won the Republican presidential nomination early today after the wildest balloting spree of any recent convention.

He wrested the title from whooping delegates on the sixth ballot shortly after midnight. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, his forces badly battered, and Senator A. H. Vandenberg of Michigan had freed their supporters to join the mad rush toward the blunt-speaking New York utilities executive.

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, his lines crumbling in the stampede, finally fell before the onrush. Then the result was declared unanimous.

Only the vice-presidential nomination and the closing convention formalities were left to be disposed of by the delegates, weary from the late night session and hoarse from two days of shouting.

Senator Taft and Vandenberg, along with Dewey, turned second place aside. Senator C. L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican floor leader, was understood to be Willkie's choice, but it was not known whether he would accept.

FIGHT ONLY STARTED

The 48-year-old Willkie, never before a candidate for public office, learned of his nomination in his hotel suite, crowded with enthusiastic friends. It was the culmination of an amazing eight-weeks' campaign, unique in United States politics.

"I'm just beginning to fight," he declared. Standing atop an improvised platform of desks in his headquarters on the 16th floor of the hotel, tired but smiling broadly, he said:

"I am very appreciative, I'm very humble and very proud. I intend to give everything I have to bring about American prosperity, building an adequate national defense and restoring national unity."

BLOW FOR BLOW

As he sensed victory as the sixth ballot was taken, Willkie had told friends he thought he was the man "to trade blow for blow" with the Democratic nominee, whom he predicted would be President Roosevelt.

For a time it had been thought he might come to the convention to address the delegates. The galleries roared for him after his nomination just as they had during the last two days. Time and again, Chairman Joseph W. Martin threatened to have the 12,000 visitors ousted.

One by one, Willkie bowed over the "favorite sons" in the early balloting. Then his drive went into the camps of the men who three weeks ago had been favored to win the nomination.

DEWEY CRACKS FIRST

First Dewey's lines began to tremble and crack. Dewey released his delegates on the fifth ballot, and there was a drive for Taft with the workers of Herbert Hoover aiding in the push. But it failed.

The thousands in the galleries, hoarse from hours of shouting, "We want Willkie," took up the chant again. Delegations that hesitated or turned against Willkie were booed; then cheered to a raucous-shaking echo when they turned back to him.

TALKS WITH MANY

Throughout the convention, Willkie had made it a practice to meet as many persons as he could, whether or not they were delegates with votes. This interest in his visitors, his broad, boyish smile, his tousled hair and his utter unconcern as to the condition of his collar and tie were characteristics which some said helped lift him from the position of long-shot to that of convention victor.

UPS ARMS PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, it is reported, intends to seek an immense boost in the United States defence program that would more than double the $5,083,310,080 already appropriated and top the arms bill of 1918.

Usually well-informed sources said last night that the huge request would be exclusively for army purposes, and that it might

THE MASTER HAND USES

Utility Man Who Speaks His Mind

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie's knock-down and drag-out battles with the New Deal's Tennessee Valley Authority furnished the basis for the meteoric career in Republican politics which won him the party's presidential nomination.

A utilities executive, lawyer and Indiana corn-and-hog farmer, Willkie has been a registered Republican only two years. He supported President Roosevelt and the Democratic ticket in 1932 and remained favorably disposed to the New Deal for some years thereafter.

Willkie, 48, has had lifelong practice in speaking his mind. Whether attacking Wall Street or the New Deal he goes into battle, as he terms it, with his "dukes up."

His life has been one of action. Born at Elwood, Indiana, he worked at a variety of jobs in his youth and while going to school. Later he practiced law and served in the army.

HEADS BIG FIRM

Today he is president of Commonwealth and Southern Corporation's $1,200,000,000 utilities firm that operates companies in the south, Michigan and the Midwest. He spends vacations at his 1,500-acre corn-hog farm near Rushville, Ind.

Willkie's parents were practicing lawyers. His mother was the first woman admitted to the Indiana bar.

Willkie had an average, rough-and-tumble, small town boyhood, growing up with his two sisters and three brothers in a three-story, maple-shaded frame house and in a yard overrun with cows, chickens, horses, dogs, cats and children.

EARLY SPELLBINDING

At Indiana University Willkie was a campus spellbinder who debated Socialism and mixed in political fights when he wasn't busy frying eggs in a short-order lunchroom to pay his way. A panic had wiped out his father's savings.

To get his schooling he sold papers, collected bills, was a harvest hand and migratory farm worker, ran a cement block machine, made steel, worked on a Puerto Rican sugar plantation and drove a haker's wagon.

He taught history in the high school at Coffeyville, Kas., returned to Indiana for a law course, then began practicing with his father.

He enlisted in the army the day the United States entered the first Great War, became a captain and served in France. There he spent part of his time as a volunteer lawyer for court-martialed American Expeditionary Force privates.

Back in the United States he met Miss Edith Willk, a librarian, at an Elwood wedding. Soon they were married. They have a son, Philip, 20.

BATTLED KLAN

Willkie went into the legal department of an Akron, O., rubber company, then joined an Akron law firm. He led a successful battle in Akron against the Ku Klux Klan—and in 1924 was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

His success as a lawyer for utilities firms attracted attention of B. C. Cobb, president of Commonwealth and Southern. Cobb induced Willkie to join the company in 1929 and when Cobb's health failed, Willkie succeeded him.

In the midst of the depression Willkie hired 500 new salesmen, offered bonuses to employees to sell electrical appliances and introduced the "objective-promotional rate" by which the company cut the rate and doubled the amount of electricity sold for domestic use.

FOUGHT T.V.A. HARD

Willkie's battle with the Tennessee Valley Authority, while the government was negotiating to buy certain Commonwealth and Southern properties, had both Wall Street and Washington in an uproar. He fought the T.V.A. in the courts, before congressional committees and in published articles. His thesis was that the New Deal was working toward destruction of the electric utilities industry.

A high Washington source has since declared that Willkie's "shrieking" increased "by $30,000,000 the price T.V.A. had to pay" for the properties. That price was $78,600,000.

Willkie is a strapping 6 foot 1½-inch man who pays little attention to what he eats, is fond of "rat cheese," smokes two packages of cigarettes a day and likes a Scotch highball or two when he knocks off work.

His life in New York has centered around his job and his chief recreations are talking, reading and pig-farming. He dresses informally, in loose-fitting dark blue suits, and wears inexpensive white shirts with soft collars.
